HAVANA. July 1 .- The new Mayor and Counlimen took the oath of office to-day in the presence of Gov-rnor General Wood and his staff, the secretaries and the outgoing Mayor od Councilmen. The retiring Mayor administered th oath, after rea ing an address giving an account of the actions of the Municipal Council of Havana since the American cocupation. Many prominent Cubans were present, and great intere t was manifested in the ceremon". Gen. Maximo Gomez was the first to embrace Mayor Rodriguez after the latter had haken hands with Gen. Wood. After taking the oath Gen. Rodriguez made a short address and suggested that the new munici al officers formally visit Gen. Wood to express their confidence in him and the promises of the American Government. A banquet was then given in the Later the new city officials visited Gen. Wood and Mayor Rooriguez made an address, in the ourse of which he declared that Gen. Wood's administration had been very successful, meriting the admiration of Americans and the gratiude of Cubans.

In reply Gen. Wood said it had always been the intention of the Americans to give independence to the island, and that the only people who could prevent independence were the Cubans themselves

About 15,000 enthusiastic persons paraded the streets in honor of the occasion. In the proession were some picturesque cars filled with utan girls gayly dressed and carying flowers. these cars were drawn by mules and oxen. As the procession passed the City Hall cheers were given for Mayor Rodriguez. Gen. Wood was also cheered. He saw the procession from a balcony of the palace. There were no American flags in the procession and very few of hem in the streets. Cuban and Spanish bands alternately played the Cuban hymn as the proession was passing the palace. This was the first time that the Spanish bands have played in a Cuban fête. The matter was arranged by Senor Sagrario, the Stanish Consul-General who took advantage of the occasion to fo . a riendly spirit between Cubans and Spaniards. An article published in a certain New York paper on June 27 denouncing everything done n Cuba by the intervening government created omewhat of a sensation here. The general ninion is that the statements made were so ong as to defeat the ends for which the arti-

le was printed, which, it is considered here, was to cast discredit on the Administration This opinion is held despite the fact that after the recent frauds in the post office the people were prepared to give a certain amount of credence to innuendoes and unproved statements. uch as have been very common lately. The Haruna Post declares that the article was written for the purpose of misrepresenting facts and figures in the interest of the Democratic Pre-idential nominee, and that it contains charges enough to cause the indictment of a king if they were in any degree accurate.

DETROIT JOURNAL" BURNED OUT Editorial and Composing Rooms in Ruins

DETROIT, Mich., July 1.-The Detroit Journal building was gutted by fire early this morning, entailing a loss of $100,000 or more and ruining the editorial and composing room departments. The fire was discovered by he janitor at 8:15 o'clock. The Fire Department responded quickly, but when it arrived one side of the building and the tower were enveloped in flames. In half an hour the flames were subdued, but not before they had burned the battery of ten type machines into twisted and almost irreparable wrecks and reduced the offices and library to a mass of ruins. Every book, file, desk, typewriter and scrap of paper in the editorial rooms was destroyed. The twin presses in the basement were saved, the only damage being that caused by water.

the only damage being that caused by water. The origin of the fire is unknown. It is believed, however, that it was from the electric wiring, or else from a smouldering ember that the stereotypers left in their department this norming after working over the type metal. William Livingston, editor and proprietor, was early on the scene and before the building could be entered issued orders to insure the printing of the paper to-morrow afternoon. The Free Press tendered the use of its establishment and it was accepted.

Temporary business and editorial offices will be provided in a building adjoining the are burned, and Mr. Livingston expects to be succeed in the old plant in two weeks.

ROOSEVELT LEAVES CHICAGO.

Has a Busy Sunday - Addresses a Sunday

CHICAGO, July 1 .- Gov. Roosevelt left here to-night at 6 o'clock on the regular Santa Fè train for Oklahoma City. A special car was attached to the train for his use by Vice-President Paul Morton, who accompanied the Governor, Richard C. Kerens, Republican National Committeeman for Missouri, and D W. Mulvane, the Kansas member of the National Committee, with the Rough Rider escort which came from New York, completed the party No arrangements have been made for any speeches or demonstrations along the route to Kansas City. At Kansas City plans have been made to welcome the Governor. Company B of the Twentieth Kansas Regiment will be drawn up to greet him, and it is expected the Governor will be called on for a little talk. The train will reach Kansas City at 8:30 o'clock to-morrow morning. Any speeches that the Governor will make until he reaches Oklahoma City will be simply informal remarks.

Gov. Roosevelt passed a very quiet Sunday He breakfasted early with Comptroller Dawes at the hotel and then drove unattended to Trinity (Reformed Dutch) Church on South Marshfield avenue. His attendance there was unexpected, and he was enabled to avoid the annoyance of a curious crowd. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Moredyke, made no political allusions in his sermon. At the close of the service he announced that Gov. Roosevelt of the State of New York, a man whom everybody delighted to honor, was present. He asked the Governor to make a few remarks to the children of the Sunday school.

The Governor consented rather reluctantly and the children gathered in the Sunday school building, where the Governor talked to them for a few minutes. After Gov. Roosevelt's return to the hotel he was waited upon by a delegation from the Marquette Club. When they had gone Gen. Wheeler was announced. Gen. Wheeler was Gov. Roosevelt's division commander at Santiago. They greeted each other affectionately and had a good talk over old times. He breakfasted early with Comptroller Dawes

PRESIDENT F. V. GREENE. Senator Platt Has Heard of No Ultimatums

From District Leaders. At the meeting of the Republican County Committee on Thursday night Gen. Francis V. Greene will be elected to the Presidency of the committee in the place of Lemuel Ely Quigg, resigned. There has been a good deal of talk lately to the effect that Gen. Greene was not satisfied with the powers that are to be his after he is elected to the Presidency, and one paper printed a story yesterday to the effeet that an ultimatum had been delivered to feet that an ultimatum had been delivered to Gen. Greene by certain Republican district leaders, informing him that if he accepted the Presidency it would have to be with the condition that William H. Ten Eyck shall be chairman of the Executive Committee and have full charge of the campaign in this county. It was intimated that Gen. Greene had made reply to this proposition to the effect that such consent on his part would make him nothing but a figurehead, and that he was now considering a reusal of the election, a move which would retusal of the election, a move which would greatly complicate a situation which would greatly complicate a situation which was only straightened out after much difficulty by the consent of Gen. Greene to take the Presidency of the County Committee some weeks ago. When Senator Platt was asked about the matter yesterd by he said that he thought the whole story was ridiculous. Gen. Greene will be elected on Thursday night, he said, and he had no idea that the General had changed his mind about accepting the place. As far as ultimatums from district leaders were concerned, Senator Platt said that he had heard nothing of such a thing, and did not believe anybody had sent any conditions to Gen. Greene.

PENNSYLVANIA POLITICS.

Hanna's Order, "No Sulking in This Campaign," Will Be Obeyed. PHILADELPHIA. July 1.-The admonition given by National Chairman Hanna to State Senator Magee during the week of the National Convention in Philadelphia that there must be no sulking in this campaign, and that fusion with Democrats for the purpose of defeating regularly nominated candidates for the Legislature or Congress would be considered cause for political excommunication, is already bearing good fruit, especially here in Philadelphia. Before the warning given by Senator Hanna it was the intention of the "Insurgent Republicans" to run ex-Speaker of the House Hon. cans" to run ex-Speaker of the House Hon. Henry F. Walton for nomination for State Senator in the Fifth Senatorial district of Philadelphia, and falling to secure the nomination, to run him as a fusion candidate. Mr. Walton, who is one of the most popular of the young Republicans of Philadelphia, will not now permit a "fusion" movement in his interest in the event of his defeat before the Republican convention, and in consequence so much strength has been given to Mr. Walton's canvass that he new seems certain to win out at the party primaries.

THOSE WHO CAME ON THE CROOK

DETAINED A FEW HOURS. Had to Watt Until the Quarantine Time Limit Was Up-Their Pleasant Voyage up the Coast-Their Cable Message to Cuba Au-nouncing Their Arrival in Boston Harbor. Boston, July 1.—The United States transport Crook, which had been lying off Qua antine since yesterday noon in order to fulfil the requirements of the United States health regulations that no vessel shall land her pas-engers from Havana until she has been at teast five days out that port, steamed up the harbor shortly after noon to-day and land d the second installment of Cuban se coi teachers, who come here to take a course of instruction at the Harvard Summer School. The party of the Crook consisted of 298 male teachers from the provinces of Havana and Pinar del Rio The vessel was sighted off Highland Light at 9:30 yesterday morning, having made an exceptionally quick passage from Matanzas, having sailed on the afternoon June 26. The voyage up was succession of fine days, with what sailors call calm sea, and although the weather was warm, the whiff of freshness in the air after leaving the Gulf Stream made the Cubans feel cold, and they wrapped themselves carefully in

Throughout the voyage the teachers were in the best of spirits. Very few of them suffered from seasickness, and none seriously, There were not enough staterooms to accommodate half the party and the troop decks were utilized. The latter quarters were found to be very warm on the first two nights out, but as the ship reached higher latitudes they became more comfortable. A few of the teachers, however, preferred sleeping in chairs on deck to going below. There were few incidents to break the monotony of the voyage. The teachers sat about the deck all day smoking long black cigars and picadura eigarettes. Every evening the ship's piano furnished the accompaniment for music on violin, guit r and mandolin. Just before the shores of Massachusetts were sighted a m eting was held to draft ome sort of a message to send to Cuba on reaching this city. After some debate it was agreed to send the following message to the Secretary of Public Institutions at Havana:

"On setting foot on American soil we, the teachers embarked from Havana and Matanzas, sal te you, the Board of Education, the Cuban authoriti s and the Cuban people. We hereby express our gratitude to the magnanimous people of the United States. Long life to free and independent Cuba." of the teachers, however, preferred sleep-ple of the United States. Long life to free and independent Cuba."

This message was cabled from here last night. When the Crook reached the navy yard she was berthed at the wharf vicated last evening by the transport McPherson, and under the g idance of Messrs. C. C. Mann and Blakeny, with ten or fifteen other Harvard men, the teachers were conducted to special electric cars and an uneventful trip to Cambridge followed. Teey were met at Sanders Theatre by President Eliot and Mrs. Alice Guilck, with others of the reception committee, and after greetings were exchanged the teachers were assigned to their lodgings, which arduous task was accomplished in less than three hours.

M'KINLEY'S SUNDAY IN CANTON. The President Attends Church and Spends

Most of the Day on His Piazza. CANTON, Ohio, July 1.-President McKinley began his first Sunday in his new home by attending services at the First M. E. Church. of which he has for years been a trustee. He and Dr. Rixey walked to and from the church. He occupied the pew long assigned to members of the McKinley family. The pastor of the church is the Rev. C. E. Manchester, who was a member of the McKinley regiment in the Civil War. He preached a patriotic sermon. fitting the Fourth of July season, making special reference to the continued growth of Christianity with the growing country. He pointed out that the highest civilization was attended with the fullest development of Christianity in all the world's history. It was not a sermon especially prepared for the occasion of a President's visit, and the only reference to this was in the prayer. In this, following the regular custom, Divine aid and guidance wereinvoked for the President and members of his official family as well as upon all who are connected with the affairs of the State, in a manner indirectly to call attention to the distinguished worshipper in the congregation.

orshipper in the congregation. During a considerable part of the day the President occupied a roomy porch chair on the plazza, which gained such fame four years ago, and hundreds of people who drove or walked past the house received a smile and a nod of recognition. Mrs. McKinley was with him during part of the time, but for the most part the air was too cold for her. It has been cold enough for wraps most of the time since they arrived and; a decided change from the Washington temperature. It seems to just they arrived and; a decided change from the Washington temperature. CUBAN TEACHERS ARRIVE. FOUR ALARMS FOR EAST SIDE FIRE. Farmers' Feed Company's Building Destroyed

The five-story brick building of the Farmers Feed Company, extending from 529 to 535 East Seventy-fifth street and from 530 to 536 East Seventy-sixth street, was totally destroyed by fire at 7 o'clock last night, though four alarms were turned in and nearly a score of engine companies under Chief Croker's personal command fought to save it. Half a dozen grain shovellers were at work in the building when the fire started. It was a small blaze when they discovered it and they attempted to extinguish it with the apparatus on the premises. The delay only caused the fire to spread. When the firemen arrived the entire three upper stories, which were filled with brewery grain, were affame. Capt. Barry of Engine Company 39 was the first commander on the scene. He turned in a second alarm and Chief Croker came around on the jump. He ordered a third and then a fourth alarm. By this time the building was a mass of flames and the efforts of the firemen were directed principally to saving the surround-ing dwellings. In this they were successful. The walls of the burned building were lined with grain chutes, which furnished chimneys for the flames. The glare when the building blazed up illuminated the East River for miles. The fire burned until nothing but the walls were left.

The fire burned until nothing but the walls were left.
When the fire started Fred Walters, superintendent of the company was in Hoboken, where one of the company's lighters was burned on Saturday alongside of a North German Lloyd pier. He arrived at his office to find the company's building a total loss. He estimated the damage at $300,000 and the insurance at half that amount. Chief Croker placed the damage at $150,000.

half that amount. Chief Croker placed the damage at $150,000.
Bicycle Policeman Fogarty rushed into the burning building soon after the fire started and the engineers badly rattled. Fogarty was an engineer before he joined the force. He turned off the steam and assisted in raking out the coal from under the boiler, preventing a possible explosion.

BAD BLAZE IN A SEY-SCRAPER. Big Crowd Watches the Firemen at Work on the McCready Building's Top.

Several thousand persons watched the firemen subdue a troublesome blaze in the rear of the top floor of the McCready building at the southeast corner of Twenty-first street and Fifth avenue. The fire was not extensive, but, being on the top floor of a tall building, it was difficult to get at and made an interesting spectacle for everybody in the neighborhood. The flames started in the loft occupied by the Publishers and Printers' Engraving Company, o which Henry C. Jones is the President. It had gained considerable headway before it was discovered and an alarm was turned in. As soon as the firemen arrived they turned in a second alarm which brought Chief Croker and Engine Company 72, which only went into commission yesterday. Lines of hose were taken up to the ninth floor by the stairs and elevator and other lines were holsted by ropes on the outside to the seventh floor. These were used by firemen who fought the flames from the rear fire escapes. H. C. Ficken of 10 West Twenty-second street, the architect of the building, came along after the firemen got to work and told them that the north side of the building was equipped with regulation standpipes. The firemen asked him why in blazes he didn't put them on the outside of the building where they could be of use. If the standpipes had been used about ten minutes 'time spent in dragging hose into the building might have been saved.

The fire was confined to the floor on which it started. The roof was badly damaged and the lower part of the south wing suffered considerably by water. Chief Croker roughly estimated the total damage as $10,000, but said it might be more. Nathaniel L. McCready, the owner of the building, sailed for Europe last Saturday. was discovered and an alarm was turned in.

MIDNIGHT BLAZE IN HARLEM. l'enement Dwellers Rescued by Citizens and Firemen.

Charles Underhill, while at work in the Edison Electric Light Works in Fast 121st street just before midnight last night, saw fire blazing in the cellar of the five-story tenement at 123 East 120th street. He telephoned for the Fire Department and Harry Meyers, another employee in the works, ran around to the house and began to wake the tenants. Meyers said that the fire seemed to have started in the building in two or three places.

Meyers assisted several of the tenants to the street, and Jack England, a son of the Park street, and Jack Edistrict.

police captain who was riding past the house on his ticycle, broug t down Mrs Bocher, a cripple, who lived on the third floor. He also carried down to the street three small children of the McDermott family from the second floor. Other citizens and the firemen saved the rest of the tenants.

The fire was quickly extinguished. Three alarms were sent in as a precautionary measure. The building was not seriously damaged.

The Death of Rear Admiral Philip Prevents the Retirement of Capt. Ide. WASHINGTON., July 1.- The death of Rear Admiral Philip will prevent the retirement from active service on his own application of Capt. George E. Ide, recently detached from the Guam station ship Yosemite and ordered to the United States Naval Hospital at Yokohama for nedical treatment. Under the Naval Personnel act there must be a specified number of vacancies in each grade of the Navy, from Cartain to Lieutenant, every year to afford a natural even flow of promotion. When there are not enough vacancies created in a grade by regular retirements, deaths, resignations and dismissals, the list of those applying for retirement is resorted to, and if. when this is exhausted, there are not enough vacancies created, a Board of Rear Admirals names enough officers to fill the list, selection being confined to those believed to be least fitted to remain in the service. Admiral Philip's death will cause the promotion to flag rank of Capt. Merrill Miller, thus making one rank of Capt. Merrill Miller, thus making one more vacancy in the list of Captains. As Capt, ide was the last officer of his grade to voluntarily apply for retirement, he must remain on the active list for another year, unless his illness should cause his retirement on account of disability. These voluntary and compulsory retirements take effect from te-day, the beginning of the fiscal year. Had Admiral Philip died today instead of yesterday Capt. Ide would have been retired.

WAR STILL STOPS MINING. GEN. ROBERTS ORDERS RETURNING CIVILIANS AWAY FROM PRETORIA.

Constant Clashes Between the Boers and British Patrols in the Free State-Plan to Put a Memorial Tablet Where a Statue of Kruger Was to Be Erected in Pretoria. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

From THE SUN'S Correspondent with Gen. Roberts PRETORIA, July 1.—The premature return of civilization to the Rand has been checked Gen Roberts's order. A number mining and engineering experts, including some of the magnates of the Rand, have reappeared in Johannesburg during the past fortnight, but they have now been ordered to return to Bloemfontein. It will probably be three months before the country will be ready for the resumption of it usual

Reports are received daily of British and Boer patrols coming in contact. These, com-bined with the condition of the railways, keep the people face to face with the fact that the war is not yet ended. Many persons who have surrendered their arms and who have received passes to return to their homes, some of which are only twenty miles distant, are as yet unwilling to leave the city owing to the conditions pre-vailing outside. Yesterday the train from channesburg to Pretoria took eight hours to make the trip.

In Church Square here there is a large granite base that was intended to be the pedestal of a statue of Pre-ident Krüger. It is now suggested that instead of a statue there he erected a memorial to all those who have fallen in the war. The site is a sultable one, as it faces the Government buildings and the Hall of Justice. LONDON, July 1 .- Gen. Sir H. Colville has been ordered home, but no reasons for this action are given. Matters are apparently progressing favorably to the British everywhere except in the Orange River Colony, where as a despatch dated June 26 says, the military situation is one of kaleidoscopic change.

SAN JUAN SCHOOL BURNED Porto Rican Structure Destroyed With a Loss of $25,000. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN SAN JUAN DE PUERTO RICO. July 1 .- The nodel training school, which was completed last December, was destr yed by fire to-day. The structure was of wood, two stories in height and burned with great rapidity. The fire department had no serviceable equipment and little could be done to check the flames. The fire was due to spontaneous combustion in the laboratory. The furniture, stock of books and he records of the Board of Education for fifty years were destroyed. The loss is $25,000; insurance, $10,000.

A crowd of 5,000 persons, including Gov. Alen, assembled to watch the fire, which could be

MISS APPLEGATE GLAD TO SEE HIM. But Her Father Ordered Shaughnessy Away and Had Him Arrested.

A young man called at the residence of Charles H. Applegate at 22 West Sixty-first street about 10 o'clock last night and asked to see Mr. Applegate's daughter. She came to the door and engaged in conversation with him and then left him, telling him she would return in a few minutes. He became impatient and rang the door bell again.

Mr. Applegate answered it this time and ordered him to go away. A few minutes later he is alleged to have rung the bell again and Mr. Applegate's wife responded. She, it is said, also ordered him to go and he refused. Mr. Applegate then went to the West Sixtyeighth street police station and asked the sergeant to send a policeman to his house to arrest man. When Policeman McGill reached the house he found the man complained of inside talking with the daughter. Mr. Applegate ordered the policeman to arrest him. The girl protested and said: Father, if you have him arrested I will leave and the young man was taken to the station house despite the girl's declaration that it was an outrage. The prisoner said he was Philip Shaughnessy, 26 years old,. He was locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct. He is said to be a clerk in one of the city departments. Mr Applegate is an editor at 73 Fulton street.

STEAMER'S DANGER IN THE RAPIDS.

Spartan's Rudder Chain Broke and Pilo Beached Her-American Tourists Aboard. MONTREAL, Quebec, July 1 .- A party of American tourists arrived in Montreal to-day after passing the night on board the R. & O. steamer Spartan in the Lachine Rapids as the result of a thrilling xperience. When the Spartan, which was on her way down from Toronto last night, was about to enter the Lachine Rapids, the rudder chain broke, and there was the greatest danger that the steamer would be dashed to pieces against the rocks.

The pilot, with great presence of mind, turned the steamer broadside to the rapids and beached her on a shoal about three hundred yards from shore. There was a good deal of excitement on board, but no panic, and nearly all of the passengers remained on the steamer over night. They were taken off to-day and brought to Montreal.

MASTER WORKMAN PINES DEAD.

He Was Leader of Two Unsuccessful Trolley Strikes in Brooklyn.

James Pines. Master Workman of District seembly 75 of the Knights of Labor, under he auspices of which the disastrous trolley strike in Brooklyn last summer took place died yesterday morning at his residence, 105 Huron street, Brooklyn, of typhoid fever. Pines was born in South Adams. Mass., and was 30 years old. When he became old enough to look for work he found his way to New York and after some time obtained employment as a conductor on a Brooklyn street car. He had the knack of controlling men to a certain extent, and when the general street car strike took place in Brooklyn in 1895 he was looked upon as its leader. Owing to the prominent part he took in the strike he found difficulty in obtaining employment on a surface railroad after it was over, and became a clerk in a real estate office. He kept up his connection with the Knights of Labor, however, and held the place of Master Workmanof District Assembly 75 when the trolley strike of last summer took place. Pines, though he assumed the place of leader of the strike after it was declared, always maintained that the strike was ordered againt his advice.

tained that the strike was ordered againt his advice.

He was in poor health before typhoid fever attacked him, and had worried a good deal over the recent quarrel among the executive officers of the Knights of Labor, in which he sided with John N. Parsons, the leader of the last trolley strike fizzle in Manhattan. Pines was a fluent speaker and very popular among the Knights of Labor, especially in District Assembly 75. He was regarded as a man possessing more of what is known as horse sense than the average labor leader possesses. He leaves a widow and one boy. Both the Central Federated Union and the Central Labor Union passed resolutions of regret at his death yesterday.

TREASURE SHIP FROM THE KLONDIKE The City of Seattle Brings Down $2,500,000 the Largest Shipment This Season.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 1.- The steamers City Seattl., Aberdeen and Robert Dollar arrived to-day from Alaska. The City of Seattle brought out 260 passengers from Dawson and $2,500,000 gold dust, $2,000,000 of which was consigned to the Government Assa. Office here by the Canadian Birk of Commerce. $200,000 was in charge of Prof. Lippy, the clean-up of his Klondike claims this spring, and $200,000 was distributed among the passengers, making the largest amount of dust brought down this year. The total receipts since June 1 now amount to $5 125,000.

The returning miners state that the water supply is increa ing because of the warm weather which is melting the ice, enabling better clean-ups than were anticipated. They predict that the output will exceed $25,000,000.

The Aberdeen and Robert Dollar are from Cape Nome, but bring no later news than that invisible by steamer San Blas last night. $2,500,000 gold dust, $2,000,000 of which was con-

SEE FOR ARCHBISHOP KEANE. Said That the Pope Will Place Him at Head

According to a well-informed American in Rome, it is certain that Archbishop John J. Kenne, the former rector of the Catholic University at Washington, is to be appointed by the Pope Archbishop of Dubuque, Ia, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Archbishop Hennessy. Friends of Archbishop Keane in this country consider that his appoint ment as Archbishop of Dubuque will be a great victory over his enemies in the Church. It is said that the promotion to the Dubuque Archdishopric has been antagonized by the anti-American element at Rome. When Archbishop Corrigan saw the Pope in Rome recently, it is reported that he spoke in favor of Archbishop Keane's appointment to Dubuque. Other American prelates who have been making CATHOLIC FEDERATION APPROVED. Many Speleties Within the Church Are it Favor of the Plan.

The first practical step toward the federation of Roman Catholic societies, that has been w ely discussed among Catholics since Bishop McFaul of the diocese of Trenton approved the project, has been taken. At a convention in Philadelphia last week of the Knights of St John, an organization of Roman Catholic lay men with branches throughout the country, the matter was carefully considered. A committee of that organization has been agitating for the ederation, and it reported that twenty-two different Catholic unions had favored the scheme. At the convention there were present delegates from eight of these asso latins, representing a total membership of 600,000. The edelegates were from the Knights of Columbus, the Catholic Order of Foresters, the Ancient Order of Hiberni ns. the Catholic Knights of America, the Catholic Relief and Benedicary As ociation, the Bohemian Cat ole tentral Union, the Young Men's Institute and the Knights of Father Mathew. A report from the Federation Committee stated that the project had the approval of Mgr. Martinelli, the Delegate A ostolic, Cardinal Gibbons and a large number of Archbishops and Bishors. It is expected that the details necessary before the most important of the Catholic societies can be united will be completed shortly.

The talk to the effect that the proposed federation of Catholic societies will result in the practical formation of a Catholic party has brought expressions of strong opposition from Catholics in various parts of the country. The fed ration proposed is received with favor, but the majority of the Catholic leaders seem to be of the opinion that a Catholic political party would be inadvisable and unnecessary. Last night he sent his letter of resignation to Chairman Hanns, and refused make any statement in addition to what e had said in his letter, which in part is as he had said in his letter, which is follows:

"The Republican party is bigger than any individual. My election as National Committeeman has caused a condition in Ohio that I did not anticipate, and that should not exist. I am profoundly grateful for the honor our delegation conferred upon me. My friends who voted for me and made my elevation possible have my gratitude. I have no feelings whatever against those who voted against me. My duty is plain to me. I cannot be an excuse for party disaffection."

SENATOR PLATT TOOK A REST.

Today, however, he will come up and attend to day, however, he will come up and attend to business as u-ual. Senator Platt said that he was still weak, but was feeling much better on the whole. He looked very much better than he has at any time since he returned from Philadelphia. "It's harder to keep away from work than to go up and attend to it," he said yesterday, and then he added that he would be at his office to-day.

The Ray, S. N. Bebout, pastor of the Metho-dist Church at Little Fails, N. J., died there on Saturday. He had been pastor of the Prespect Street M. E. Church in Paters n and of Trinity Church, Newark.
